

Bohemian Bicycles

David Bohm built this concept frame to his own dimensions, for his own fun. This "Orange Crush" replaces a bike stolen from right under Dave's nose. Countless hours of intricate lug and paintwork make this one hit $6000, complete.

www.bohemianbicycles.com

Hunter Cycles

This 29er features an unconventional seatube/top tube junction to allow the rear tire to have clearance with shorter than usual chainstays. And the double top tube is pure class. A frame like this retails for about $1500.

www.huntercycles.com

